8. Safeguarding & Risk

- a. National Museums Liverpool (NML)'s Safeguarding Policy remains in place and these guidelines have added detail to protect both our staff and children / vulnerable adults from participating organisations during a visit.

9. Safeguarding & Code of Conduct Guidelines

- a. When conducting a House of Memories On The Road visit –
 - Our staff will:
 - Provide a safe environment which only the booked group can access.
 - Only run a workshop if at least one member of staff from the organisation / setting is present with participants.
 - Always have two museum staff present in every workshop.
 - Dress professionally and act as suitable role models.
 - Have enhanced DBS checks.
 - Ensure all our delivery teams are professionally trained and have extensive experience of delivering public programmes.
 - Our staff will not:
 - Use any personal mobile phones/devices.
 - Record any live workshops, nor consent to being recorded by organisations without prior arrangement.

- Take or share any videos or photos of the workshops without prior agreed consent and the completion of consent forms.
 - Engage in inappropriate conversations with participants or share inappropriate personal information about themselves or others.
 - Discriminate favourably or unfavourably towards any individual.
 - Show disrespect towards participants with different faiths, beliefs or from different cultures to our own.
 - Ask for or use full names.
 - Give personal contact details to participants or communicate outside of National Museums Liverpool using social media networks, email, or text.
- b. Conduct and providing a supportive environment:
- Clear expectations of how the session will run will be set out at the beginning of the workshop.
 - It remains the responsibility of the organisation to support participants throughout the workshop.
 - If a participant requires additional support or becomes distressed, the facilitator will pause delivery until the situation is settled by the organisation.
 - If the session becomes untenable, the facilitator has the right to end the workshop.
